INFORMATION FOR CONTRACTORS

May 3, 2011

As spring is here and summer is ahead of us, this is a reminder for all contractors to ensure that if you are doing any trenching in which electrical equipment will be installed, you are required to declare the work or call for inspection so that the Electrical department has the opportunity to inspect before trenching is backfilled. In cases when the work must be completed the same day, please advise our office prior to the start of the work so appropriate plans can be made.

Failure to follow this procedure may result in reopening of the trench to inspect for proper depth, separation, backfill material and burial tape.

Regards,

Michael Henney
Electrical Inspector
