Office of the Commissioner of Yukon
Call for Applications – Story Laureate of Yukon

As a champion of literacy and the written and spoken arts, the Commissioner of Yukon is a patron of the Story Laureate of Yukon. The laureate serves as an ambassador for the literary arts, oral history and literacy in the context of Yukon’s past, present and future. As an ambassador, the laureate participates in the life of the Territory and is invited to attend Yukon events to publicly share works. The laureate creates work and focuses on cultural, historical, and heritage themes that are relevant to the people who live in Yukon.

Roles and responsibilities of the Story Laureate of Yukon:
- to serve as an ambassador for Yukon literary arts, oral history, and literacy;
- Produce 4 original works for specific occasions or with specific themes as identified by the Commissioner each year;
- create written or oral artistic work that reflects Yukon places, sites, identity, and/or the life of the territory;
- appear and present original works at 2 public events as supported or identified by the Office of the Commissioner; and
- appear and present original works at 2 official events organized by the Office of the Commissioner.

The Commissioner of Yukon provides the Story Laureate of Yukon with:
- the laureate title to champion Yukon literacy and the written and spoken word with their word-art;
- a stipend of $5000 per year for a two-year term; and
- annual travel* expenses of up to $3000 to Yukon communities to support public presentations as identified by the Commissioner and, towards travel expenses to attend one national literary festival per year.

Eligible applicants must be at least 19 years old, proficient in English, and have lived in Yukon for 2 continuous years prior to applying. The Story Laureate of Yukon will retain the copyright to all written works created during and deriving from this position. The Commissioner reserves the right of first refusal to exclusively license, publish, and promote said works for the sole purpose of championing literacy, literary arts, or spoken word arts within the auspices of the Commissioner’s Office.

The successful candidate will sign an agreement outlining the rights and responsibilities while holding this title. The successful applicant will not be able to re-apply for the position for 6 years after the end of their term.
