Yukon Bureau of Statistics

Inter-jurisdictional Employees 2019

Highlights:

- In 2019, a total of 2,850 non-Yukon residents received $93.2 million in employment income from Yukon.
- Yukon's Mining, quarrying, and oil and gas extraction industry employed 680 non-Yukon residents in 2019, which was the most of any Yukon industry.

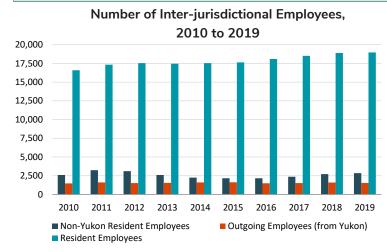

Note: Due to changes in Statistics Canada's suppression rules, this report is not strictly comparable to previous Inter-jurisdictional Employees reports published by Yukon Bureau of Statistics.

About Inter-jurisdictional Employees

- Inter-jurisdictional employees are individuals who maintained a permanent residence in one province or territory during the year as indicated on their T1 tax return, while reporting earnings from a different province or territory during the year as indicated on a T4 Statement of Remuneration. Incorporated self-employed individuals may be included, but only if they issue themselves a T4 slip.
- Only Canadian employees aged 18 or older who earned more than $1,000 (in 2016 constant dollars) are included.
- Inter-jurisdictional employees incoming (to Yukon) are individuals who received T4 earnings from Yukon but reported a different province or territory of residence on their T1 tax returns; inter-jurisdictional employees outgoing (from Yukon) are individuals who identified as residing in Yukon but received T4 earnings from other provinces/territories; and resident employees both resided in Yukon and received all T4 earnings from Yukon during the reference year.
- Estimates in this report are derived from the T1 and T4 tax files and exclude late and re-assessed taxfilers. Data for the 2019 tax year is the most recent available.
- Inter-jurisdictional employment may represent a significant source of income for home provinces or territories of inter-jurisdictional employees, and a significant source of labour for the provinces or territories in which they work.

In 2019, there were 2,850 non-Yukon residents who received employment income from Yukon, while 1,530 Yukon residents received employment income from other provinces or territories. There were 18,960 employees who resided in Yukon and received all their employment income from Yukon.

Non-Yukon residents received a total of $93.2 million from Yukon as part or all of their employment income in 2019; Yukon residents received $41.1 million from other provinces and territories as part or all of their employment income in 2019; and Yukon residents who only earned employment income in Yukon received $1.1 billion in 2019.

Over the ten year period from 2010 to 2019, on average each year, 2,601 non-Yukon residents earned employment income from Yukon and 1,544 Yukon residents earned employment income from other jurisdictions.

Comparing the most recent five-year average (2015 to 2019) to the previous five-year average (2010 to 2014), the number of non-Yukon residents earning income from Yukon decreased by 310, or 11.2%. During the same period, the number of Yukon residents earning employment income from other jurisdictions remained the same at 1,544.

Source: Statistics Canada Tables 14-10-0433-01, 14-10-0434-01 and 14-10-0435-01

In 2019, non-residents' earnings in Yukon were $93.2 million, which was $52.1 million higher than Yukon residents' earnings outside of Yukon ($41.1 million).

This was mainly attributable to the difference in net earnings from the Mining, quarrying, and oil and gas extraction industry sector in which non-resident employees earned $23.5 million more in Yukon than Yukon residents earned outside of Yukon. The second most significant contributer was Construction, in which this difference was $10.9 million; followed by Professional, scientific and technical services, in which this difference was $5.4 million.
